

Elluminate Open Access Licensing

Unlimited learning. One flat fee.

Education institutions like yours are looking for ways to save on costs of travel and teleconferencing. At the same time, you want to offer online learning programs and collaboration tools that increase student achievement, build a sense of community, increase teacher adoption of learning technologies, and meet the preferences of today's technology-savvy users.

Elluminate's Open Access Licensing is a flat-fee, volume-licensing plan designed to encourage use without the hassles of restricted software licenses, usage predictions, large up-front expenditure buying challenges, and overage charges for exceeding seat limits.

Why Open Access?

- Unlimited Use
No time or seat capacity restrictions mean more learners and more learning.
- Simplicity
No need to track minutes, count users, or administer the system.
- Predictability
Single, flat fee with no per-minute overage charges.
- Rapid ROI
More users and uses of Elluminate mean a high ROI—fast.

Accelerate Learning from Department to Enterprise

With Open Access Licensing for Elluminate's real-time learning and web collaboration products, learning is truly unlimited, continuous, viral, and accelerated. By enabling access to all teachers, administrators, and even students in a single department or your entire academic enterprise, Open Access Licensing accelerates Elluminate adoption—and increases ROI.

Open Access includes the full Elluminate Learning Suite™ software offered conveniently as Software-as-a-Service (SaaS), technical support services, standard training, and Elluminate Bridges for integration with your Learning or Course Management System. And with domains for departmental partitioning and management, you retain control. So teach, collaborate, and communicate whenever you want—without the worries of lockout or unpredictable fees.
